

WHAT IS EIUS?

On the day of his ordination, a priest lies on the marble in front of the altar, offering himself completely to God and the Church. In that sacred moment, his heart burns with a singular purpose: To belong to the Lord. To be His.

Though the grace of ordination endures, the world around the priest is constantly shifting, and our priests must be equipped to lead in this new mission field.

Eius is an ongoing formation service that is carefully crafted to be a guiding force in a priest's ministry, helping him navigate a complex world of ministry and rekindling the fire of his priesthood that was ignited at ordination.

WHY IS ONGOING FORMATION FOR PRIESTS?

"Following the footsteps of Vatican II's "Presbyterorum Ordinis" and John Paul II's "Pastores Dabo Vobis," we can define ongoing formation in this way: It is the continuing integration of priestly identity and functions or service for the sake of mission and communion with Christ and the Church."

The Basic Plan for the Ongoing Formation of Priests

"If we think that we are finished and that there is nothing more to learn, we are short-circuiting ourselves and short-circuiting our ministry to our people... we owe it to our people to be refreshed and renewed."

*Most Reverend Gregory Hartmayer
Archbishop of Atlanta*
